

PETER SCARY KITCHEN PRESENTS DAY OF THE DEAD

As its recent star-studded launch party proved, Manchester's most exciting new restaurant really knows how to have a hell of a good time. Which is exactly what your promised at Peter Street Kitchen's latest extravaganza – a Day of the Dead dinner and after party.

Drawing on the Latin American side of its dual heritage, Peter Street Kitchen (for one-night rechristened Peter Scary Kitchen) is promising a night of spills, chills and surprises. Partnering with Moët & Chandon, the evening starts with a glass of bubbly, followed by a sublime selection of contemporary Mexican small plates, dishes from the robata grill and a selection of delicious signature cocktails.

Appetites sated it's time to lay your inhibitions to rest and party into the dead of night with live entertainment and DJs.

This ghoulish fest kicks off at 8pm on Friday 2nd November. Tickets are priced at £65 inclusive of dinner and glass of champagne.

Demand is set to be exceptional so early bookings are recommended, either by calling 0161 835 8941 or emailing reservations@peterstreetkitchen.co.uk.
